Rehearsals for the fall production of "Misery" by William Goldman, based on the novel by Stephen King, are now underway!

The first couple read-throughs gave us all the chills – it's so good! Seasoned director Trevor Lundy is at the helm and Michelle McCue is producing this one.

The cast is as follows:
Tracy McGuire as Annie
Jeff Cooper as Paul
Patrick Baranowski as Buster

Our AGM is Tuesday September 13th at 7pm.

To vote in an election or to be nominated for a Board position, a person must be a CCT member in good standing for a minimum of 30 days. This means August 14th is the deadline to renew or become a member.

Please VOTE and consider volunteering for one of the open positions on our Board of Directors. The time, skills and experience provided by those who serve a Board is critical to sustaining and growing the organization.

Besides having such a talented cast, we have some pretty stellar special effects planned, but you'll have to come to the show to see them.

Best get your tickets early for this one. What better way to celebrate October than with Stephen King?

Show dates are October 14, 15, 20, 21, 22, 26, 27, 28, and 29, 2022 at 7:30 p.m. with a matinee performance on October 23, 2022 at 2:00 p.m.

Special thanks to our season sponsor Mike Paugh, IG Wealth Management and our show sponsor Cranbrook Flooring Ltd.

To serve a Board or volunteer for anything, you only need to be reliable and dedicated.

CRANBROOK VOLUNTEERISM & BUD'S BENCH

Well, here it is August 2022, and we are 6 weeks from the unveiling of Bud's Bench. We are so pleased that the community at large is behind this project, contributing both financially and with volunteer hours.

Cranbrook artist, Paul Reimer, has been busy planning and working on the prototypes and soon will be crafting the bench that will sit in front of the Studio/Stage Door.

Dick Griffith at Interior Trophies has been provided copies of all of the logos of contributors and is ready to present his first draft of the dedication plaque that will go on the bench.

The plaque on the bench will be interactive, containing a QR code that when scanned, will take visitors to a Volunteer Tribute page hosted by the Cranbrook Community Theatre website. A viewer will be able to listen to volunteerism stories of Bud Abbott and perhaps some videos of original scenes that he was in.

The Volunteer Tribute page also contains a listing of local groups and organizations that are currently welcoming volunteers. The Bud's Bench Committee notes there is room for others that would like to list and link on this "volunteer" page.

The organizing of the celebration that will take place at Rotary Park on September 10th is progressing nicely. With food and drink, music and speeches, we are looking for a great morning and afternoon to celebrate Bud Abbott and Volunteerism Past, Present & Future in Cranbrook.

Arrange to perform or share a story about Bud Abbott or about volunteer achievements at this celebration by contacting us 250-426-2490 or crancommtheatre@gmail.com

Landscaping has Begun!

The summer will be busy outside the building known as the Studio/Stage Door. This year's project involves the lawn, flowers, walkways, and front steps, as we re-slope and replace the sod, install irrigation, add cement walkways, repair and repaint the front entrance steps and prepare a permanent spot for Bud's Bench.

Brian and the crew from Brikat Contracting Ltd will be doing all the work necessary to bring the outside of the building up to the same standards as the inside.

We are looking forward to the completion of this project to coincide with the Bud's Bench placement and subsequent celebrations in September.
